Potential Engineering Grad Students: Prior Supervisor Consent Requests Close on February 10th

The Graduate School of Engineering at Kyoto University of Advanced Science will close requests for prior supervisor consent on February 10th at 12:00 (JPT).

In order to apply to the Graduate School of Engineering, please submit your request for prior supervisor consent by the deadline.

You may submit your request for prior supervisor consent by following the procedures detailed here.

The Kyoto University of Advanced Science's (KUAS) all-new, innovative English-taught engineering department is currently in the planning phase for its launch in 2020. The school itself has a 50-year history since its establishment, and is an accredited private institution located in the heart of Japan. By inviting the top-notch CEO of a Kyoto-based globally successful firm as chairman, the university aims to offer its academic resources in the international arena, with the exciting new engineering department being one example of these efforts.
